

Grammar - Vocabulary Review

Language Arts
Grade: High School

Created with LoopWriter Software,
www.CurriculumProject.com

I have...
the part of speech that modifies a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

I have...
The song "was performed" by the choir.

I have...
apples "and" peaches; or, my eyes
are green, "but," my brother's are brown.

Who has...
an example of passive voice?

Who has...
examples of conjunctions?

Who has...
the form of an adjective or adverb
comparing three or more entities,
can be formed by adding -est.

I have...
superlative degree.

I have...
see, seeing, saw, seen; or, drive,
driving, drove, driven.

I have...
irregular verb.

Who has...
the part of speech that names a person, place, thing, idea, action or quality.

Who has...
examples of irregular verbs?

Who has...
verbs whose past and past participle forms are different in spelling from the present form.

Who has...
an example of an adjective clause?

I have...
the music "that you are listening to".

I have...
appositive.

I have...
a compound-complex sentence.

I have...
active voice.

Who has...
a noun or noun clause following another noun or pronoun to further identify or explain it?

Who has...
a sentence with 2 or more independent clauses and one or more dependent clauses?

Who has...
the form of an action verb where the subject is the doer of the action?

Who has...
an example of an appositive?

I have...

One type of music, "country and western", is quite popular in the south.

I have...

predicate.

I have...

a group of words including a subject and a predicate and forming a part of a sentence.

I have...

conjugation.

Who has...

the verb or verb phrase in a sentence that makes a statement about the subject - such as "sang the song yesterday"?

Who has...

clause?

Who has...

changes in form and use of a verb to signify tense, voice, number, person & mood?

Who has...

the forms that nouns or pronouns have (nominative, objective, possessive) signifying their relationship to other words in a sentence?

I have...

case.

I have...

a characteristic of verb tenses indicating progress, emphasis, or time.

I have...

progressive tone: "am eating";
emphatic tone: "did listen."

I have...

part of speech positioned before a noun or pronoun showing the relationship of that noun/pronoun to another word in the sentence.

Who has...

tone?

Who has...

examples of tone?

Who has...

preposition?

Who has...

passive voice?

I have...

the form of a verb telling that the subject is not the doer of the action but the entity upon which action is taken.

I have...

"at " school ; "over" the mountain.

I have...

We are, "however", hoping to get to go on the trip.

I have...

adjectives and adverbs that can't be compared because their meanings are absolute.

Who has...

examples of prepositions?

Who has...

an example of an adverb?

Who has...

absolutes?

Who has...

examples of absolute adjectives or adverbs?

I have... perfect, unique or parallel.	I have... subordinate or dependent clause.	I have... conjunction.	I have... the part of speech that modifies or limits the meaning of a noun or pronoun.
Who has... a clause that does not express a complete thought, but depends on an independent clause in the same sentence?	Who has... the form of speech used to connect words or groups of words?	Who has... adjective?	Who has... a dependent clause used to modify a noun or pronoun?
I have... adjective clause.	I have... a verb form functioning either as a verb in a predicate or as an adjective, such as "I am enjoying my lunch."	I have... the time of action or state of being expressed in a verb - such as present, past, future.	I have... "The answer was correct, but the steps to the solution were not."
Who has... participle?	Who has... tense?	Who has... an example of a compound sentence?	Who has... a sentence that includes one independent clause and one or more dependent clauses?
I have... complex sentence.	I have... a sentence with two or more independent clauses.	I have... a pronoun.	I have... a verb.
Who has... compound sentence?	Who has... a part of speech used to replace a noun, often to prevent repetition of the noun (I, me, he, she, it, they)	Who has... the part of speech expressing action or state of being, or helping another verb complete its meaning.	Who has... adverb?